4th of July

The 4th of July has become a time for family BBQ's, fireworks and gathering with friends however it appears we may have forgotten the true reason we celebrate the 4th of July. America exists because a select few choose to live free of the rules of England. A select few decided religious and personal freedom was worth fighting and dying for. But for these select few, the land we call home, a land with ultimate freedom would be a significantly different place. In addition to our personal celebrations, I hope everyone will take the time to reflect and give thanks to those who choose freedom and fought and died back in 1776 and throughout today, so that we can live free.

CNA Week

June 16th - 23rd

National Nursing Assistant's Week

On behalf of the entire Empire Care Centers management team, we were thrilled to celebrate with all our staff but especially our CNA's and TNA's National Nursing Assistant's Week this past June 16-23.

For those who work in nursing homes, we understand the volume of work you do, day in and day out and to say you are appreciated is an understatement.

National Nurse Assistant's Week is not just to accept recognition from others, but a time to celebrate all the things you have done already to make your profession everything it can be!

Interesting Facts:

"Nursing Assistants provide as much as 80-90% of the direct care received by residents and clients in long term care facilities."

According to the National Network of Career Nursing Assistants, "Nursing assistants are key players in the lives of the people in their care. Each day, more than 4.5 million caregivers provide hands-on care to our nation's frail, elderly, or chronically challenged citizens in nursing homes and other long term care settings. And the number is growing as an additional 700,000 new positions will need to be filled in the next 25 years.

We love and appreciate our Nursing Assistants

National Macaroni Day July 7th

Each year, the nation gets its fix of the beloved pasta, macaroni, as we celebrate National Macaroni Day on July 7. This little elbow-shaped pasta is such a fan-favorite that it gets its own day of celebration. Apparently, macaroni is the most common form of pasta in the U.S. So on this day, let's all come together to show our love for the humble and versatile macaroni.

The origins of pasta, and macaroni, are not very clear. Records indicate pasta might have originated in China, instead of in Italy as is commonly believed.

As more of the world came into contact with various cultures, different types of pasta were introduced to the colonies. People began to fall in love with this doughy noodle. The American ambassador to France, Thomas Jefferson, first tasted pasta in Naples, Italy. He even brought back a pasta-making machine to the U.S., and this inspired him to design a machine of his own, one with instructions for making pasta. The American love affair with pasta continued to boom throughout the 19th century.

A Message From Julia Ann Walklett

June has been an exciting month here at Jackson. We are beginning to have an increased number of applicants for our open positions. We are sure that July is going to be even better. We are also proud to welcome IH Services to our family here as they are partnering with us to provide housekeeping and laundry services. The future is bright for Westbury Center of Jackson. We have a great core staff that has stuck with us through thick and thin, and, we are hiring very capable people to complement our wonderful core staff. Stay tuned for more great things from Westbury of Jackson.

July is UV Safety Month

Sunglasses, More Than a Fashion Statement - We all know the importance of using sunscreen to protect our skin from the sun's harmful rays, but what about protection for our eyes? Recent studies have shown that prolonged exposure to the sun's invisible, high energy ultraviolet rays without protection may cause eye conditions that can lead to vision loss, such as cataracts and age-related macular degeneration. Sunglasses and a wide-brimmed hat are the best defense system for your eyes against sunlight and harmful UV rays. To be effective, both must be worn every time you're outside for prolonged periods of time, even when it's overcast.

The food was plentiful, and the gifts overflowed. Rowan won't need clothes for a long, long time! Thanks to everyone who showed up and everyone who helped!

End of Dog Days of Summer

The phrase "Dog Days" conjures up the hottest, most sultry days of summer. The Old Farmer's Almanac lists the traditional timing of Dog Days: the 40 days beginning July 3 and ending August 11, coinciding with the heliacal (at sunrise) rising of the Dog Star, Sirius. The rising of Sirius does not actually affect the weather (some of our hottest and most humid days occur after August 11), but for the ancient Egyptians, Sirius appeared just before the season of the Nile's flooding, so they use the star as a "watchdog" for that event. Since its rising also coincided with a time of extreme heat, the connection with hot, sultry weather was made for all time: "Dog Days bright and clear indicate a happy year. But when accompanied by rain, for better times our hopes are vain."

We were all so excited to see him! He brought along doughnuts for all and expressed blessings and thanks for The Meadow's staff. It's always so amazing for us to see how our residents get back onto their feet and are happy and joyful again! Thank you R. First Ever Step on the Moon

After Apollo 11's launch on 16 July, watched by an estimated television audience of 530 million, even more tuned in as astronaut Neil Armstrong took the first ever step on the moon.

As he put down his foot on the moon's surface, television viewers heard Armstrong announce: "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind". However, Armstrong is reported to have said that he has been misquoted, and that he in fact said: "That's is one small step for a man..."

Brown Bag Tip --

Food Safety

Bringing your lunch to work, or preparing lunches for your children to take to school, means food can go unrefrigerated for extended periods of time.

This gives bacteria a chance to grow and multiply, thus increasing the risk of food poisoning. Here are some food safety tips to keep in mind when preparing bag lunches.

Keep Lunches Cold

The very nature of bag lunches makes it nearly impossible to keep food properly refrigerated (storing it at a temperatures of 40°F or colder), particularly while driving to work or taking the bus to school. And even if your school or workplace offers a refrigerator for storing lunches, you're still going to have to do some careful planning to make sure the food you pack for lunch doesn't end up causing a case of food borne illness.

Summer is synonymous with fun in the sun, BBQ's and the beach. However, for those of us who live on or near the coast, summer also means Hurricane Season is here. In addition to our families, we, as health care professionals, also have a responsibility to our residents. To make sure we are prepared in the event a Hurricane occurs, it is important that everyone participate in the emergency drills. Knowing what to do and how to do it well in advance of the need is the key to everyone surviving a disaster.
